Here, Mrs. Marion Jones wears the latest "after-5" bubble dress and Mrs. F. W. Fahnestock models a print with matching hat. The marriage of the Martins and the Coys will be another feature. Mrs. Lorene LeBlond and Mrs. Kay Jakubowski are chairmen for the evening.

Turkey Is Featured at Club Dinner

Over eighty persons enjoyed a pot luck turkey dinner at the Nov. 10 meeting of the Torrance Branch of the California National Fuchsia society. The turkey was furnished by the club and cooked by Mrs. Stephen Boyko and Mrs. Frank Hinkel.

It was served by Fred Ellis assisted by Mmes. Garrison Ruby, T. Goff, Henry Jenkins, Boyko and Hinkel.

The table centerpiece, made by Mrs. Ruby, was a huge turkey formed of chrysanthemums and feathers. Other tables were arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Glenn assisted by their granddaughter, Francis, and Dallas Boyko.

During the dinner, Frances Donohue entertained with accordion music.

Welcoming signs in English and Turkish set the theme as Mrs. Boyko, program chairman, introduced Charles Wortham as speaker. Mr. Wortham spoke on Konya, Turkey, which he visited recently. Konya is a sister city to Torrance.

Mr. Harootian, local resident and a native of Turkey spoke on Turkey and displayed several heirlooms of his Turkish family. He also demonstrated the wearing of a fez.

Special guests were the Brownie Troops 231 and 130 sponsored by the club.

Among the guests from the California Board were Elmer Monson, president, and his wife, who won the door prize.

Turkey door prizes were won by Mrs. J. Edward Hechinger and Robert Hovram. During a short business meeting conducted by Frank Hinkel plans were outlined for the Children's Christmas party.

Services were presided over by Mrs. Ernest Somerville, chapter president, and Mrs. Charles Melledge, honorary member of Pi Phi.

Mrs. Don Bromley, past-president, presented the members with a heart-shaped name tag tied onto a white lace doilie with a dainty black bow bringing out the remaining color of this International organization. Prospective pledges were presented a corsage of baby yellow rosebuds tied with black ribbon with the name of the pledge and the Greek symbols of Beta Sigma Phi written on the ribbon, by Mrs. Charles Fitzpatrick, vice-president and membership chairman. Pledges are Mrs. Earl Hennis and Mrs. Rodney Barker.

Attending the tea were Mmes. Dave Apgar, Bromley, Fitzpatrick, Bill Garrison, Bob Grommett, Steve Mady, Joe Secula, Knud Sloth, Robert Todd and Disparte. Also, Mrs. Clyde Scites of Beckley, West Virginia, mother of Mrs. Bromley, who is spending a month visiting in California.

The pledges were honored again on Nov. 17 at Lococo's Restaurant, Manhattan Beach, at which time Mrs. Sommerville conducted the Pledge Ritual Ceremonies.

Pi Phi Pledges Honored at Preferential Tea Recently

Pi Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, honored its prospective pledges Sunday at a Preferential Tea at the home of Mrs. Joe Disparte, Los Angeles. The Disparte home was beautifully decorated with bouquets of yellow carnations. The tea table was tastefully covered with a white damask cloth and was bedecked with silver candleholders holding the yellow candles, representing the organizations colors, and tied with tiny silver bows. A low basket of yellow carnations was placed in the center of the table. The serving pieces for the table were all silver and the silver tea and coffee

Two Weeks' Trip

Mr. and Mrs. John Schwartz, 1751 Iris Ave. returned last week from a two weeks trip to South Dakota and Minneapolis, Minn. In South Dakota, they visited relatives and Mr. Schwartz did some pheasant hunting. They spent a week in Minneapolis where Mr. Schwartz attended a convention. The trip was made both ways by plane.

Beef cuts are comparable in price, and nothing can be more impressive to family and guests than a standing rib roast.

The Lamb situation hasn't changed much lately either in price or supply. A done-to-return lamb roast is hard to beat, and the favorite meat of some families for any festive occasion.

BEST BUYS FOR THE WEEK

In Torrance Markets

Now is the time for all good homemakers to plan Thanksgiving menus. Of course there are many more meals to be planned for . . . and prepared . . . in between. Markets in southern California are bulging with good food, and menu planning should be easy.

Poultry is uppermost in conversation now. The supply is abundant, but you'll pay a little more per pound than you did last year. Turkey is still a wise buy . . . both penny-wise and nutrition-wise.

If you need a large number of servings buy large turkeys. The greater yield of meat in proportion to bone from the large birds means economy. For example, a 25-pound tom turkey yields 56 per cent roasted meat, while a 15-pound tom yields about 50 per cent. Even if the price per pound is more economical. But be sure of your needs. If you need few servings — or your facilities for storing leftover meat are limited — then a small turkey is the one for you.

Chicken can be the star performer for your Thanksgiving dinner . . . or for any other November lunch or dinner. Abundant, and continuing at low prices.

If your family prefers Pork or Ham for the big day you'll find all pork products plentiful.
